About KEASA:

KEASA is a non-profit organization of amateur and professional astronomers dedicated to promoting the science of Astronomy through astronomical observation, education, research, and outreach. We welcome the participation of all who share our interest in the stars.

KEASA Membership:

Because of PMRF regulations, legal, and insurance reasons KEASA members must be at least 18 years old. Minors can be sponsored by a KEASA member to participate at any KEASA event including member-only events. KEASA operates an observatory on the PMRF (Pacific Missile Range Facility) base and as a KEASA member you are invited to participate at our member only star watch events that are usually held monthly at the KEASA observatory. Since the KEASA observatory is located on a military base you must apply for a "PMRF Guest Pass", you can search for "PMRF Guest Pass greatlifehawaii" on the internet for application requirements. Members also receive an invitation to the annual membership meeting, have KEASA voting rights, receive notifications of star watch and invitations to special events, have access to the observatory at PMRF (special conditions apply), and, most importantly, members have access to some of Kauai's most knowledgeable science and astronomy educators. A full KEASA membership also includes a subscription in the Astronomical League which includes a quarterly 'Reflector Magazine'.

About Privacy:

You address information is only used for the 'Astronomical League' subscription and KEASA will only use your email address to send event announcements and cancellations (i.e. when a star watch is cancelled due to weather). We keep your phone number on file in case you use the KEASA observatory on PMRF.
